

Anna Pehlken - Polish soprano, singer with broad repertoire, laureate of prizes and distinctions. A graduate of the Academy of Music in Krakow, (1996) she completed courses at vocal and acting department - Solo singing and the instrumental department - Flute. After graduation she completed postgraduate studies in singing at the Musikhochschule in Köln. She still improves her vocal skills participating in various master classes. She is being regularly invited to numerous well known music festivals. She also makes recordings for radio and television and performs premieres of many contemporary compositions. Her repertoire consists of operas, songs, chamber music, musicals and also theatre and film music. Since the beginning of her adventure with music she performs the great polish repertoire by Szymanowski, Chopin, Moniuszko; for example she sang world premiere of Szymanowski's "Loteria na mężów" in Cracow Opera House. Cooperation with numerous personages guide her musical skills to international arena.